

FULL Automatic Laminated Glass Processing Line

Laminated glass processing line is made of two or more pieces of glass panes, which are laminated with PVB interlayer under high temperature and high pressure. Laminated glass processing line is necessary equipment for construction glass, decoration glass, wind-screening glass and bulletproof glass. This line includes different equipment such as washing machine, PVB unwinding machine, laminating positioning and transmission machine, movable scissor sucking hanger, pre-laminating and pressing section and autoclave. There are two kinds of heaters: Ordinary quartz heater and IR heater. The whole line is PLC controlled with high efficiency, safety, reliability, and easy operation.